Renews Search
for Capsule

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Search is being renewed today in the Pacific for the Discoverer XV satellite's now-it's-there, now-it-isn't capsule. Circling planes lost visual and instrument contact with the satellite late Thursday as the rain squalls struck the rough ocean where it floated.

It had been almost given up for lost after it parachuted 1,000 miles off course, into the sea Wednesday about 200 miles north of Christmas Island.

Discoverer XV was launched into a polar orbit Tuesday at Vandenberg AFB. The orbit was nearly perfect. What caused the capsule to fall far south of the recovery area hasn't been determined.

Discoverer XV carried only instruments.

Population
of Death
House Cut

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Executions of Emmett Earl Leggett and William Frank Nail today cut population of Arkansas' death row to six, all Negroes.

A year ago, there were 16 persons in the death house. Nine have been executed and one won a new trial.

Still awaiting execution, with dates set, are:

Lonnie B. Mitchell, 25, of near El Dorado, sentenced in the rape of an elderly white woman on March 10, 1959.

Lawrence Gene Moore, 21, of West Memphis, sentenced for the September, 1958, slaying of a night watchman at West Memphis.

John Bracey, 26, of near Eldorado, sentenced for slaying a Negro woman at Eldorado in January, 1959.

Clarence Stewart Jr., 16, of North Little Rock, sentenced for the Jan. 8, 1958, robbery slaying of a white storekeeper.

Edward Walton Jr., 29, of Ashdown, sentenced for a robbery slaying at Ashdown June 20, 1959.

Luther Bailey Jr., 48, of Woodson, sentenced in the June 13, 1956, rape of a Little Rock white woman.

Constitution
Week to Be Observed

September 17th, marks the beginning of Constitution Week.

During this time the citizens of the United States are asked to give special attention to the Constitution of their country.

The John Cain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, believing this document "the noblest document ever produced by the mind of man" urges the citizens of Hope, its churches and schools to give added recognition to Constitution Week through prayer and study.

The freedoms granted the citizens of the United States through the Constitution deserve the respect of all who live under its protection, and an appreciation to those men of rare vision, profound wisdom and integrity who pledged their lives, fortunes, and sacred honor that such a document might be the heritage of future generations.

Leggett Pays
Full Penalty
for Murder

By JOHN R. STARR

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Emmett Earl Leggett walked calmly to the electric chair after dawn today for the slaying of a 14-year-old boy in 1955, ending his four-year fight to escape death.

Only three hours earlier, his attorney lost a dramatic pre-dawn fight before the state Supreme Court for a 12th stay of execution.

The 23-year-old Leggett watched with obvious curiosity as the electrode was fastened to his left leg. Then one was attached to the first shock hit him at 6:19 a. m. and then one was attached to his shaved head.

The first shock hit him at 6:19 a. m. and he was pronounced dead at 6:21 a. m. two minutes later. His death row cellmate, William Frank Nail, 27, was executed a few minutes before for the slaying of a fellow convict in 1958.

The last-hour appeal before the state Supreme Court came after Leggett's attorney, Kenneth Coffelt of Little Rock, had been turned down by the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis for another stay.

Leggett's face relaxed, expressionless, as the mask was placed on his head. He appeared completely resigned to death.

Asst. Supt. of Prisons Jim Bruton said both convicts spent "good nights" they talked with the prison chaplain and other ministers. Bruton said they even slept some.

After the state Supreme Court rejected Coffelt's plea without comment, the weary attorney told news men: "That's all boys. I'm at the end of the road."

The last-hour appeal was based on what Coffelt said was proof the state hospital had suppressed from the courts evidence that Leggett was insane.

Leggett was convicted and sentenced to die for the 1955 strangulation of Joe King of Jacksonville, Ark., when the boy resisted his unnatural sexual advance.

The Leggett case went to the state Supreme Court five times and the U. S. Supreme Court four. All decisions had been against him.

U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley refused Thursday at Little Rock to interfere with the execution.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus had granted Leggett a number of stays in his long legal fight to escape the electric chair.

Coffelt flew to St. Louis after Henley gave him no hope. Then when the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals there rejected his request for a stay he rushed back to Little Rock.

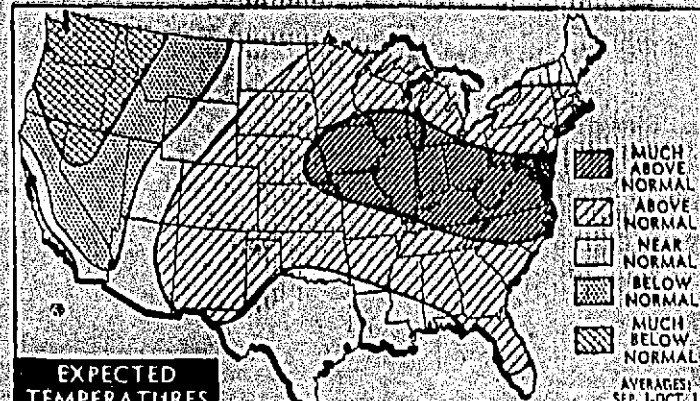

He called the State Supreme Court clerk Philip N. Gowen at 2:15 a. m. and told him he wanted to present a petition to the court. Gowen notified the members of the court who hurried to the courtroom.

When the court convened it listened to Coffelt make a fist-shaking, impassioned plea. Then it deliberated 15 minutes and denied his requests for a stay and permission to file a writ of error based on his contention the State Hospital had suppressed evidence.

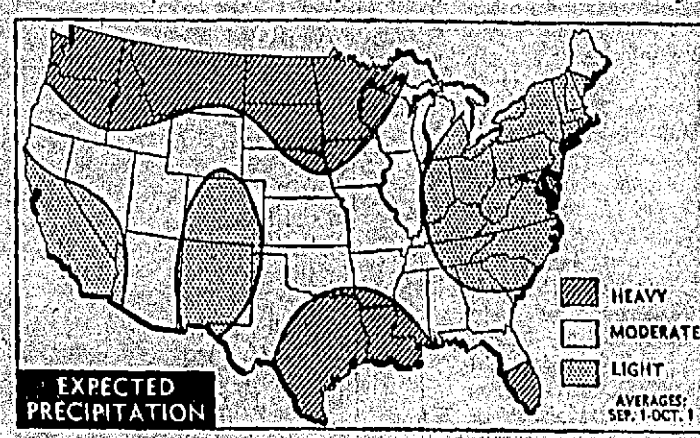

Coffelt said that he had learned only Thursday that State Hospital doctors had concurred with a finding of a team from the Menninger Foundation of Topeka, Kas., that Leggett was insane.

He also said he could prove that the State Hospital has a brain wave film of Leggett which would prove he was insane. He said an encephalographer, Al Scroggins of Little Rock, had come forward at midnight and volunteered the information.

NEW YORK (AP)—The city police department is going on a 24-hour alert to protect Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and other controversial foreign leaders when they convene next week for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly.

Beginning at 12:01 a. m. Monday, the 25,000-member force will be mobilized for emergency duty, with all days off canceled and the basic work week 60 hours instead of 42.

Khrushchev, who is arriving Monday aboard the Soviet ship Baltika, already is in for a "bronx cheer" harbor reception by members of the Longshoremen's Union, who are hiring an excursion boat for the purpose.

Police said, however, no boat would be allowed within 200 feet of the Baltika as it moves through the harbor to its East River pier at 25th St.

Khrushchev, restricted to Manhattan Island during his stay, has accepted an invitation to address the Overseas Press Club, a club official announced Thursday. The exact date for the speech will be set later.

Africa Report
at Southside
Assembly

Rev. Morris Platts, of Lake Charles, La., will present an inside report on Africa at the southside assembly, Sunday for one service only, at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Platts will be showing full color pictures of Kenya Colony, Africa.

Mr. Platts went to Africa in 1955 and was instrumental in establishing a church there in the wanga tribe, a primitive people living near the shores of Lake Victoria, source of the Nile River. Kenya will be remembered as the land of the mau mau, which was an uprising costing the lives of nearly 20,000 people in the past few years.

Rev. Platts is well known as an evangelist, convention, and camp meeting speaker, having ministered in 37 denominations in many countries during his 37 years in the pulpit. He plans to return to

U. S. Woman
Worker Jailed
by the Cubans

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's secret police held an attractive blonde U. S. Embassy secretary in jail today and brushed off protests by the American ambassador.

The seizure of Marjorie Lennox, 20, of San Francisco, a confidential secretary in the embassy's important economic section, was dramatic evidence of the virtual breakdown in U. S.-Cuban relations.

U. S. Ambassador Philip Bonsai called her arrest "completely illegal." Cuban authorities refused to tell him what charges—if any—they have against her.

The ambassador went personally to the Foreign Ministry to deliver a blistering oral protest Thursday after earlier written protests were ignored.

The first embassy official who tried to see Mrs. Lennox at headquarters of the Cuban Military Intelligence—DIER—was held there four hours himself and then sent away.

Later another official managed to see Mrs. Lennox for a few minutes and reported she was hysterical at the time. Two later attempts by embassy officials to contact her Thursday night were rebuffed.

Armed agents of Castro's security forces raided Mrs. Lennox's apartment at 1:30 Thursday morning.

She was held 10 hours while they questioned her and searched the apartment and then was taken to DIER headquarters.

After arrest came to light only after she failed to show up for work and U. S. officials made inquiries at her apartment building.

Mrs. Lennox, who is divorced, has worked in Cuba since last November. Her passport does not carry diplomatic immunity but it was considered a serious breach of protocol to jail a diplomatic employee without referring the case to the embassy.

An embassy spokesman said she may have been arrested in reprisal for the recent ouster of a Cuban consular official in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Khrushchev, restricted to Manhattan Island during his stay, has accepted an invitation to address the Overseas Press Club, a club official announced Thursday. The exact date for the speech will be set later.

Riales Governor
for a While

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Sen. Roy Riales of Menard took over today as Arkansas governor.

Riales, who is president pro-tem of the Senate, succeeded to the state's highest office because both Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon are out of the state. His term will be over when either of them returns.

Riales took advantage of the occasion to proclaim the week of Sept. 19-24 as "Self-Improvement Week."

More Arrests
Are Made in Congo Fuss

By LYNN HEINZERLING

LINDOLDFVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu's Congolese troops arrested Patrice Lumumba's personal staff today and some reports said the disgraced premier also was taken into custody.

The Congo's rising pro-Western strongman also prevented a meeting of the National Parliament, which has been heavily on Lumumba's side, by putting a ban on the modernist parliament house on a bank of the Congo River.

Mobutu men, continuing their crackdown on the Communist-supported Lumumba faction, drove up in a truck to his official residence.

With U.N. Ghana troops standing by but taking no part, Mobutu's soldiers deployed round the residence and the premier's administrative offices across the street.

The soldiers herded all the members of Lumumba's staff they could find into the truck and drove away—presumably to Leopoldville.

Lumumba, who was reported in hiding in another villa of the capital's European section, was also believed to have been picked up.

The actions constituted the most decisive show of force since Mobutu, the 29-year-old chief of staff, proclaimed Wednesday that the army was taking over control of the young nation's chaotic government.

Mobutu has recognized President Joseph Kasavubu as chief of state, but at the

Only Miracle Can Keep Out the Pirates

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates set off on their final road trip of the season tonight with St. Louis and Milwaukee still in need of a miracle to keep the Pirates from their first National League pennant in 33 years.

With 14 games left, the Pirates lead by six games and have to win 10 to clinch the ring no matter what the Cardinals or Braves do. After losing two in a row, the Pirates bounced back with a 3-1 victory over Los Angeles as right-hander Bob Friend won his 16th with a six-hitter Thursday.

Going into the opener of an eight-game trip at Cincinnati tonight, any combination of Pittsburgh victories and Cardinal losses totaling 10 ways it up for the Pirates. The combination is eight over the third-place Braves, who trail by 6½ after defeating the Chicago Cubs 3-1 as Lew Burdette won his 17th with a two-hit pitching job.

San Francisco defeated Philadelphia 6-6 in 11 innings in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

No games were scheduled in the American League Thursday. New York, holding a one-percentage point edge, and second place Baltimore open a four-game showdown at Yankee Stadium tonight.

Friend (16-11) walked one and struck out five. Bob Skinner helped Friend to his third straight victory by hitting a two-run home run, his 15th, in the first inning and then scoring the other run when he singled in the eighth and Dick Stuart followed with a double. Roger Craig (7-3) was the loser for the Dodgers.

Burdette (17-11) retired the first

College Grid Play Starts Saturday

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California, back in business for the glory and gold of post-season bowl games, launches the 1960 major college football season tonight against Oregon State in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Game are the days when the giants wait until the last Saturday of September to begin play. The weekend schedule lists the likes of Mississippi, Pitt, Washington, UCLA, Alabama, Georgia Tech, Georgia Army, Texas Christian, Navy, Texas, Maryland and West Virginia just to name a few.

But tonight, the Trojans have the stage to themselves. Out of the NCAA doghouse at last, and eligible for the Big Five title and Rose Bowl berth, Southern California Coach John McKay's first season at the helm.

Oregon State is still rebuilding under Coach Tommy Prothro, but McKay, one of 18 coaches starting new jobs this weekend, has a problem caused by the graduation of Clark Holden, the No. 1 ground gainer last year, and his understudy, Al Conroy. USC's No. 4 offense leader, McKeever, will return to end on defense.

Saturday night, in the same Coliseum, Pitt with its "C" boys in the backfield meets UCLA, another Big Five member. The Panthers, minus a solid throwing quarterback, must offset the running of UCLA tailback Skip Smith with their backfield trio.

—Cox, Clemens and Cunningham—

Georgia and Alabama clash at Birmingham, Ala., in the televised game of the day (ABC-TV, 8:30 p.m.). Eastern Standard Time. Both are injury riddled, but Georgia, defending Southeastern Conference and Orange Bowl title, many have its title hopes dampened by a much-improved Crimson Tide offense.

Also in the South, Georgia Tech

and Kentucky meet in another SEC game, while Louisiana State, the 1959 national champion, and third-year plays Texas A&M. Maryland plays West Virginia while Virginia Tech and North Carolina State meet in other top games.

In the East, defending national champion Syracuse is idle for a week, but Penn State meets Boston University, Army takes on ambitious University of Buffalo and Navy goes against Boston College.

Texas Christian, Texas and Southern Methodist, of the Southwest Conference, do some business with the Big Eight. TCU meets Kansas while Texas faces upstart Nebraska. SMU turns its attack to the ground against Missouri.

Mississippi, Syracuse's chief threat for national honors, is at Houston against the Cougars.

Tulane of the SEC travels to the West Coast to meet California in an interconference battle. Washington goes against College of the Pacific. Also on the Pacific Coast, Stanford plays Washington State, while Idaho meets Oregon.

Backworkers to Hackle Nikita

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thursday Night's Games

NEW YORK (AP)—The dock workers plan to hackle Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when he sails into New York harbor Monday.

Thomas W. Gleason, general organizer of the International Longshoremen's Association, said his union is hiring an excursion boat to go down the bay to meet the Baltika, the ship bringing Khrushchev here for the United Nations meeting.

"The Baltika will dock at pier 75, East River, and 25th street, 1½ blocks south of the U. N."

When the Baltika is in earshot, Gleason said, the dockers will give out with catcalls and boos. The boat will be decorated with anti-Communist placards and banners.

"And a band aboard the boat will play 'God Bless America'—for us!"

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—

Dr. Ralph Phelps, president of Ouachita Baptist College, today dissociated the college with a Kennedy rally for President Kennedy.

"These were students who cut classes," Phelps said, in a statement issued today. "They had no authority to speak for anyone except themselves. Ouachita Baptist has not endorsed any candidate for president."

The Ouachita students demonstrated for Kennedy while the Massachusetts senator was in Texas for a campaign speech. They carried signs saying "Ouachita Baptist for Kennedy."

and Kentucky meet in another SEC game, while Louisiana State, the 1959 national champion, and third-year plays Texas A&M.

Maryland plays West Virginia while Virginia Tech and North Carolina State meet in other top games.

In the East, defending national champion Syracuse is idle for a week, but Penn State meets Boston University, Army takes on ambitious University of Buffalo and Navy goes against Boston College.

Texas Christian, Texas and Southern Methodist, of the Southwest Conference, do some business with the Big Eight. TCU meets Kansas while Texas faces upstart Nebraska. SMU turns its attack to the ground against Missouri.

Mississippi, Syracuse's chief threat for national honors, is at Houston against the Cougars.

Tulane of the SEC travels to the West Coast to meet California in an interconference battle. Washington goes against College of the Pacific. Also on the Pacific Coast, Stanford plays Washington State, while Idaho meets Oregon.

Dallas Man Leads Open at Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—

Slim purposeful Don January of Dallas, moved into today's second round of the $25,000 Tacoma Open Golf Tournament with a four stroke bulge on a sharp-shooting field and a new course record for his collection.

He eased around the 6,490-yard par-71 Fircrest golf course in a stungy 63-strokes Thursday, unhindered by a fog that prompted tourney officials to suspend play for 15 minutes in the early morning.

Bob Rosburg of Overland Park, Kan., groped his way around in 67 strokes to tie with six others for second position. The fog lifted slowly and late starters had no difficulty.

January's 63 cut one stroke off the course competitive record of 64 set in 1948 by Cary Middlecoff. January's card read 34-29-63.

Par-shooters had to settle for a tie for 35th position in a field of 150. Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., leading money winner among the touring professionals, was one of the large number carding 71s, along with Julius Boring of Midway, N.C., and Al Balding of Toronto.

Seven players had 69s, nine had 68s and there were nine 70s.

The closed hearing for the youth, Gervis Nichols of West Memphis, Ark., last only 10 minutes.

Julian Fogleman, deputy prosecuting attorney, said Nichols will not be tried during the court's September term which starts Monday.

The slightly-built youth emerged from the hearing with tears in his eyes. Wearing a red shirt, gray slacks and polished black shoes, he arrived and left in the custody of a jailer and a deputy sheriff.

Among those attending the hearing were his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sheridan. Mrs. Sheridan was weeping.

Youth Tells of Slaying Two Others

MARION, ARK. (AP)—

A 14-year-old boy who told police he killed two playmates because he wanted to die in the electric chair was bound over to Circuit Court today on murder charges.

The closed hearing for the youth, Gervis Nichols of West Memphis, Ark., last only 10 minutes.

Julian Fogleman, deputy prosecuting attorney, said Nichols will not be tried during the court's September term which starts Monday.

The slightly-built youth emerged from the hearing with tears in his eyes. Wearing a red shirt, gray slacks and polished black shoes, he arrived and left in the custody of a jailer and a deputy sheriff.

Among those attending the hearing were his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sheridan. Mrs. Sheridan was weeping.

Police said the youth surrendered two hours after the double slaying in West Memphis last Friday. The victims, Douglas Noylors, 9, and James W. Melton, 11, were killed by blasts from a .410-gauge shotgun.

Officers quoted Nichols as saying: "If I just killed one they might send me to reform school again, but if I killed them both they'll send me to the chair. I want to die. I go not belong in this world."

The boy's parents died when he was an infant. He was reared in a succession of foster homes and spent six months in the Arkansas Boys Industrial School a year ago for running away from home.

Today's brief hearing was held in Juvenile Court.

It wasn't until he was held to Circuit Court that Nichols' identity was made public. It had been withheld after the shooting while he was under Juvenile Court supervision.

half been "deliberately withheld from the courts for the purpose of hiding the truth."

Scroggins was not asked to testify by the court. He was in the courtroom and told newsmen he had made the brain wave tests on Leggett while he (Scroggins) was working at the State Hospital.

"This whole litigation," Coffelt told the court, "is based on the proposition of whether or not this boy is insane. I have proof he is insane and this conviction should be set aside."

Coffelt's blonde wife and Scroggins' left the courtroom together at a 1:15 a.m. after 4 a.m.

At the prison, Brulon said, both men ate a steak dinner with french fries, corn, green beans and salad. For dessert they had cake, ice cream and a pie.

Brulon called them the "bravest men I ever saw."

Nail was given his first shock at 6:09 a.m. and was pronounced dead at 6:14 a.m.

Both men walked the 40 feet from death row to the electric chair. Twenty-two spectators observed the executions in addition to the official witnesses.

Nail had asked to be the first in the chair.

They had talked during the night with the prison chaplain, Buddy Taylor of Sherrell, the Rev. Earl Smith of Plumerville, Rev. Charles Harris of England, and other ministers.

Brulon said Leggett and Nail talked freely but asked that only the ministers and their parents be admitted to their cells.

Leggett had been on death row longer than any convict since Arkansas began using the electric chair in 1913. He was convicted June 4, 1956 in Pulaski Circuit Court and his execution first had been set for Sept. 14, 1956.

In 1957 a privately-financed examination by the Menninger Foundation found Leggett "with Ivy was charged with not reporting or paying $4,096.64 in taxes in 1953 in an Internal Revenue Service complaint filed June 14.

The complaint was filed at that time to prevent the statute of limitations from barring the matter before it could be presented to a grand jury.

The jury indicted Leonard W. Cooper, 52, a clerk in the Blytheville post office, on a charge of stealing mail. The indictment specifically mentioned two letters, one of which contained six $1 bills.

Integration Case Up in November

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—

The latest appeal in the Little Rock integration case will be heard by the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis during its November session.

An order received here Thursday said attorneys will argue the case but no new testimony will be introduced.

The appeal stemmed from a ruling Sept. 2 by Federal Judge John E. Miller which said the Little Rock School Board was using the state pupil assignment law properly.

Sixteen Negro students who claimed they should be assigned to schools solely on basis of attendance areas, appealed the ruling.

Beef Will Be on Many U. S. Tables

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Beef in one form or another will appear at many American dinner tables over the weekend, judging by the weekly specials offered in supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.

A variety of cuts ranging from chuck roast to the more expensive sirloin steaks and rib roasts is on tap.

Some fresh produce may be a few cents higher due to transportation snarls caused by hurricane Donna. Fruits and vegetables are in a "weather" market, produce men say, but prices are expected to return to seasonal norms as farmers get back in the fields and resume harvesting.

Beef prices in New York metropolitan area stores range from 39 cents a pound for chuck roast, with the bone in, to sirloin steak at 95 cents a pound. Both are unchanged from a year ago.

Turkey also is offered in some areas of the Far West and East, while specials on pork are comparatively few and far between. Pork chops are 4 to 10 cents a pound higher in scattered sections, while fryers are off 2 cents in a few places. Eggs eased off slightly after their recent climb.

Best buys among vegetables this week are cabbage, cauliflower, corn, lettuce and medium-sided onions. Carrots, peppers, celery, eggplant, squash, tomatoes and sweet potatoes are rated as good buys.

The green and juicy Thompson variety of seedless grapes heads the list of outstanding buys among fruits. Others include pears and apples.

You can get a good buy from among prunes, nectarines, lemons and small California oranges.

DOROTHY DIX

How Not to Be Taken For Granted

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

Tell me what to do when after 15 years of married life my husband can't be bothered to remember all the little things which mean so much to a woman, still as wedding anniversaries, birthdays, and so on. I feel I'm taken for granted and resent it bitterly because I have always treated my husband with love and consideration. In a group he is a constant talker and has to be the life of the party, yet at home he never discusses anything with me.

Excuse the hasty writing. I'm trying to get this off before my three children wake up and find me so unhappy. They are old enough to understand. —Lost and Lonely

Dear Lost and Lonely: Feeling sorry for yourself—and you probably have every right to be—isn't going to get you anywhere. Show some spunk. Give your husband a jolt. Stop treating him with love and consideration. If he asks what's wrong, smile and say everything is fine; why does he ask? Let him worry. Get the idea across that wives are people, not chattels, and must be treated with love and respect. It's the wife's fault if she is taken for granted. I say this in all kindness. Get busy. Change the picture.

I am 12. My parents won't let me watch TV. They keep me in my room most of the day and treat me like a baby. What shall I do? —K. P.

Dear K. P.: Banning TV for you isn't too serious. You're not missing much. Do you mean that your parents lock you in? You don't make this clear, nor state their reason for so doing. How about having a talk with your family doctor or clergyman. Are there any close friends or relatives to whom you could appeal?

Unwed Mothers:
Lack of space makes it impossible to reply to your letters in this column. If you want help, send self-addressed, stamped envelopes. The addresses and letters are, of course, kept confidential.

I am deeply in love with a man that is 45 years old, is married and has three children but I'm only 19. He says he loves me but every time I mention getting married he slips away. Please tell me what to do for I'm desperate. —"Just Ducky"

Dear "Just Ducky": You know as well as I. Put him out of your life. Fill the void with work—the cure-all for broken hearts by work. I mean self-development. Be systematic about this. Jot down on a sheet of paper precisely what you want to be in life. Then set about training yourself for whatever career you've chosen, be it wife, mother, artist, musician, office worker. Study books on the subject. Take courses. Bend all your efforts in that direction.

With the self-improvement will come self-confidence. You'll see that your love for this married man is a test of character. Having successfully resisted him, you will be all the stronger.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address it in care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Attention from Married Men."

New Storm Softened by Cold Air

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Bili, her power drained considerably by colder air, moved toward the coast today with top winds estimated at 100 miles an hour.

A 6 a. m. (CST) Weather Bureau bulletin placed the center of the storm 80 miles south-southwest of Mobile and heading for the Mobile-Pensacola area at 15 miles per hour.

Tornadoes, an offshoot of the hurricane, struck in the Panama City, Fla., area today, 100 miles to the west. Power lines were knocked down and other property damaged by the twisters in the communities of West Bay and Springfield, the Florida Highway Patrol reported. No casualties were reported.

The Coast Guard in New Orleans reported two persons were missing and presumed drowned after their boat capsized near the mouth of the Mississippi River about 80 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The center of the storm extended outward 100 miles to the northeast and 50 miles to the southwest, the Weather Bureau said.

One death was indirectly attributed to the storm. Justo Sa-voie, 60, a retired engineer, died in New Orleans of a heart attack while securing attic windows preparing for the storm. At first there were indications the hurricane would strike New Orleans.

Authorities in the central Gulf Coast estimated at least 50,000 persons fled from the fury of the storm.

At New Orleans, Louisiana Civil Defense officials said a conservative estimate of persons in shelters and private homes in south-east Louisiana was 31,000.

Residents of Louisiana's marsh-land country left without a second warning, undoubtedly recalling that Hurricane Audrey left 500 dead and missing in 1957.

The hurricane developed so quickly off the Yucatan Peninsula deep in the Gulf Wednesday that many areas were caught unprepared. Weather Bureau officials at Miami feared that storm preparations might have started too late and that the hurricane might cause millions of dollars of property damage and possible loss of life.

Evacuees crowded into the shelter — or possibly fuel — that "this is one of the snakes for which it is pretty clearly established that the newly-born seek refuge from danger in the mouth and gullet of the mother."

A general section on serpents added "It is true, to a limited degree, that at times of danger, the little snakes take refuge in the capacious mouth and throat of the mother."

So there you are. Were Mrs. Callahan's rattlesnakes just given a premature (and brief) introduction to the world or was their hiding place destroyed?

There's another old theory about rattlesnakes, heard often in the Ozarks, which says that a black-snake will fight a rattler at every opportunity. And the blacksnake always wins.

Old-timers in the hills sometimes told vivid stories of epic encounters between the two species. But why don't the rattlers win sometimes?

Arkansas surely ought to have someone who can straighten out fact and fantasy about the snakes. After all, isn't Arkansas supposed to be one of few states where all four of the North American varieties of poisonous snakes may be found?

But back to Mr. Greer. He's something of a snake-hunter, in addition to manufacturing paperweights and other gadgets out of bauxite.

Just the other day he captured a spreading adder (a non-poisonous snake) right near Little Rock. It was about 12 inches long, black and white and a fine specimen, he said. He donated it to the city zoo.

That was his second gift to the zoo. He caught another spreading adder, slightly larger, last year and turned that over to the zoo, too.

Fallout Shelter Drive Stated

EL DORADO, Ark. AP — A national Civil Defense drive to promote construction of nuclear fallout shelters was launched here Monday.

Welcome W. Wilson, director of Region 5 of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization, said a meeting with about 100 civic leaders here was the first of its type in the nation.

Persons attending the session pledged material, labor and other help for construction of a model shelter here. The first phase of the program calls for construction of model shelters in various cities.

Wilson said Region 5 hoped to have 100 such demonstrators built by Dec. 7, national Civil Defense day and anniversary of the 1941 Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

In 10 years, Wilson said, a house erected then and considered modern won't be considered modern without relief in higher tariffs or import controls.

Indicted for Threat to Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 19-year-old Texan, serving a four-year sentence in a federal reformatory, was indicted by a federal grand jury Wednesday on charges of threatening to kill the judge who sentenced him and the prosecutor who handled his case.

The indictment said the threats were contained in letters mailed in May from the El Reno, Okla., reformatory by Joe Martin Appleton of Dallas. Appleton was sentenced last March 28 for a $100 theft.

The letters were sent to U.S. District Judge Gordon B. Young and U.S. Atty. Osro Cobb.

Both officials were told that the letter writer would be freed on March 28, 1964, and that he planned to kill them. The indictment said.

There was no explanation of how the letters were mailed from the reformatory.

But the hurricane-force winds died had gusts up to 45 miles per hour, swept across lands near the mouth of the Mississippi River about 100 miles southeast of New Orleans.

"Certainly," Mr. Smith replied.

Would you like to have the convenience of placing all the various policies on both your home and the contents, including not only fire insurance, but coverage for theft, residential glass breakage, liability and many other features in one package policy? This saves the annoyance of having several policies expire at old times throughout the year.

"Yes, it does sound better," Mr. Smith said. "But what about the cost?"

"That was my next question," I replied with a grin. "Would you like to cut the cost of your insurance approximately 25%? My insurance companies grant this much reduction below the cost of individual policies. If you agree to buy the complete package, 'Sounds good,' Mr. Smith agreed. 'Go ahead and issue that type of policy.'"

May we explain the many advantages of a Homeowner's Policy to you too?

Bobcats Tangle With DeQueen Tonight at 8

By Vince Foster Hope Star Sports Writer

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Hope Bobcats will tangle with an old rival will DeQueen Leopards at Hawthorn Stadium. The Leopards will come loaded with power, as usual, and eager to revenge the losses the Bobcats have handed them for the past two years.

The Bobcats, short on experience but long on spirit, will be out to meet them full force. To date the Bobcats have the edge on the Hope-DeQueen series record with 8 wins to the Leopards 6.

The 7A Leopards have won their first two bouts by shutouts over Mena, 19-0, and Broken Bow (Okla.), 12-0 and have bounced their previous pre-season standing of tenth in a ball to sixth.

The big horse for DeQueen is Dwayne Cox, brother of Razorback Curtis Cox. D. Cox has scored four of the five leopard touchdowns this season. Also leading the DeQueen attack are speedsters Hopson and Suggs.

With Ball, 220 pounds, Ramsay, 185 pounds, and Hancock, a big tackle, the defense of the Leopards is very strong.

Coach Pierce had this to say on the Bobcats chances, "The boys are pretty confident they are ready for DeQueen, but I am not so sure." Because of the excellent game the Bobcats played last week against Pine Bluff, they have been picked to beat DeQueen by many sportswriters.

The Cats will have to repeat the wonderful defensive play of last week and better their offensive attack to beat the strong Leopard team. Since the blocking of the Bobcats has improved this week, with an all out effort and plenty of support from the students and adult fans, the Bobcats should be able to chalk up their first victory of the season tonight.

Everyone is invited to this contest at 8 o'clock and is promised an exciting game.

Oklahoma S. and Arkansas Meet Saturday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks will field an all-junior starting backfield Saturday night for their 1960 football opener with Oklahoma State in Little Rock.

Pullback Curtis Cox, a 190-pound junior, will start in place of injured regular Paul Alberty, a senior. Alberty has a cracked jaw.

With Cox in the Parker backfield will be junior quarterback George McKinney and junior halfbacks Darrell Williams and Lance Alworth.

Coincidentally, Alberty missed the Oklahoma State game last year because of a shoulder injury and Cox, then a sophomore, received his first starting assignment.

In that game, which Arkansas won 14-7, Cox ran with the progress of a seasoned fullback, scored one touchdown and marked himself as a Razorback star of the future.

McKinney will be fighting a grudge battle against an old friend, Oklahoma State quarterback John Maisel. Both did their high school quarterbacking under coach Wally Myers at Texarkana, Tex., high school. Maisel was a year behind McKinney and succeeded him as first team quarterback.

Arkansas put the finishing touches on its fall practice session Thursday, then packed their bags for today's bus trip to Hot Springs. They will hold a brief warmup in Hot Springs today, then spend the night in the Spa city and drive to Little Rock just before game time.

The Oklahoma State team will fly to Little Rock today. Alternate Lonnie Buchner will start in place of right half Chester Pillman, who has a bruised foot.

THE FRIENDLY MOBS
By WILLIAM E. GILROY
Mobs in the news are associated generally with hostile nation. But there is a carnage in friendly mobs which has largely been unnoticed.

A movie actor not long ago suffered injury when fans pressed too close upon him. When friendly enthusiasts deluged Adlai Stevenson at the Los Angeles convention he looked as if his clothes were about to be ripped off. When Candidate Kennedy arrived back in Boston, he required more than 50 policemen to hold back the 15,000 who greeted him.

At the Republican convention the Nixon children were temporarily separated from their parents when crowds claved and shoved to get at the vice president.

The menace of such friendly mobs may seem slight, but it is very real despite their friendly interest and purpose they are influenced by mob spirit and psychology. Each person wants to be in front, in the thick of it, all. Hence the pressure and the danger.

Back of mobs, friendly or unfriendly is the lack of sense of individual control and of individual responsibility. Another aspect of the same thing is the rush of motorists to the scene whenever a fire alarm sounds and fire-fighting equipment is on the way.

In an American city recently the damage from a big fire was far greater than it would have been had not the firemen been hampered by converging motorists. It would be a good rule for every motorist, when a fire alarm sounds, to keep out of the way.

It would be wise, too, for friendly fans to be less anxious to be in the forefront. Consideration for the individual whom one would honor is more important than pressing in close to see or touch him.

How's That, Again?
It is no overstatement to say that our relations with Cuba are looking pretty dismal. But the situation does, sometimes seem to have its ridiculous aspects.

At the meeting of the Inter-American Economic Conference in Bogota, Columbia, Cuba's economic minister, Regino Boli, in a 40-minute speech, lashed out at American aid to Latin America as a swindle and a tool of imperialist aggression.

However, he told newsmen later, Cuba would be willing to accept U.S. aid, if no conditions were attached.

Aid to Aged Hinges on Local Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas won't be able to initiate a new federal-state program for medical aid to the aged until the Legislature appropriates money for it, U. S. Commissioner for Civil Control said today.

The Legislature doesn't meet until January. Adams said a recent Washington announcement that the recently enacted medical care bill would make 3,200,000 available for the program in Arkansas is misleading.

"That figure includes state matching funds on an 80-20 ratio," Adams said.

Medical aid funds for the aged are available under present state welfare department policies. The state also provides medical aid for the disabled, the blind and dependent children. The new program is designed only for persons over 65.

Not Interested

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman says there is no possibility he would seek the U. S. Senate seat left vacant by the death of Sen. Thomas Hennings Jr., D-Mo.

Truman said Thursday he has been urged to take the Senate seat but "I don't want to take the place of some young man."

Brett didn't push the tired horse; he was trying to keep something left in him for when Tice and his gun-wavers came shoving off his back trail. He reckoned it wouldn't be long — the man knew this range like the palm of his hand.

The done a lot on uncomfortable thinking about Lola remembering the hope he had opened up for her.

It was then he caught the flog of hoofs back of him; not loud at first, more a mutter but steady like a long roll of drumsticks, growing, sweeping nearer, raising a track of cold flesh along his back.

He was half turned, listening, trying to gauge how much time he had, when two sharper sounds like dry sticks snapping bounded out of the dark lower reaches of the river.

There are moments when all one's faculties appear literally to freeze under the impact of knowledge. Lola came instantly into Brett's head. He didn't try to explain it. He put the horse down the bank that fell off the right, seeing the huddle of gun-clutching figures milling in front of the Red Wall, not even thinking about them, putting all of his strength into keeping the horse's head up, feeling him squall—hoping he could see in this blackness. And then he remembered the kid, the try Red had made at Trone's ranch to get hold of her; and his mind had room for just one desire.

He used the bit cruelly, forcing the panicked horse to come around, hearing scared yells, the racket of rifles; scarcely aware of this. It was those isolated shots exploded out of the black below which had all of his bit interest attention. If that were Lola down there—and he was convinced it was, it must have been her that had been doing the shooting. No man—even Red—would hardly fire at a woman. It must have been Lola trying to stand the kid off with her pistol.

The horse went out from under, screaming. Brett jackknifed, breathless, hurtled through the dank air like something flung from a catapult. He went 30 feet through mud on his belly, still gripping Trone's sixshooter. His belt caught on the exposed root of a cottonwood and he was jerked half around, the last of his breath jolted out of him.

The wink of muzzle flash, the hard slap of a bullet plowing into congealed earth about an arm's length away, jarred him back to reality—shock breaking through shock. It pushed him onto a knee, discovering his fist still wrapped about Trone's gun. When the fellow tried again, firing blindly, Brett judged him crouched somewhere in the vicinity of Butterfield's old station—a may not be quite accurate today. Meeting in Washington at United Press International's conference of editors and publishers, newsmen from all over the country agreed that there no longer is such a thing as "foreign" news, because global events have become "local" stories in their importance to everybody in this modern world.

No one can argue with that, and a look at the news content of the newspapers of a generation ago will confirm it.

Nothing, however, can change or replace the vital function newspapers still perform in reporting truly local news, as well as international. A 1900 edition of this paper, we predict, will confirm that, too. —By Don Oakley
